Backpacks - Update

Students starting on Monday, October 17th, students will no longer be allowed to carry their backpacks with them to class. They will need to utilize their lockers to keep their books, supplies, and jackets stored during the day. We will still have a 5-minute passing period between each class for students to go to their lockers. This is a practice we had in place before the pandemic and students did very well with it. Please work with your child during the next week to prepare for this transition. If needed, students can find their locker information in Skyward.

Eight grade book club books are in for the month of OCTOBER. Stop in and see Ms. Rose in the library for copies of Dread Nation by Justina Ireland, a perfect spooky season read featuring zombies. NOTE: This time the lunch time book club will be in the library conference room where the acoustics are far better. Below is a synopsis of what the book is about. If you are interested, pick one up from the library, and we will see you on October 27th.

Jane McKeene was born two days before the dead began to walk the battlefields of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania—derailing the War Between the States and changing the nation forever.

In this new America, safety for all depends on the work of a few, and laws like the Native and Negro Education Act require certain children attend combat schools to learn to put down the dead.

But there are also opportunities—and Jane is studying to become an Attendant, trained in both weaponry and etiquette to protect the well-to-do. It's a chance for a better life for Negro girls like Jane. After all, not even being the daughter of a wealthy white Southern woman could save her from society's expectations.

But that's not a life Jane wants. Almost finished with her education at Miss Preston's School of Combat in Baltimore, Jane is set on returning to her Kentucky home and doesn't pay much mind to the politics of the eastern cities, with their talk of returning America to the glory of its days before the dead rose.

But when families around Baltimore County begin to go missing, Jane is caught in the middle of a conspiracy, one that finds her in a desperate fight for her life against some powerful enemies.

And the restless dead, it would seem, are the least of her problems.
