

DAILY ANNOUNCEMENTS THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 2017

CERAMICS: Any student who took Ceramics last semester need to come down and pick up their projects if they have not done so already. You can pick up until Friday, January 20th. After that date, projects will properly disposed.

SPIRIT WEAR: The 2020 spirit wear sale has been cancelled.

INTERIOR DESIGN/HOUSING: Any student who took Interior Design/Housing last semester need to come Room C222 and pick up their projects if they have not done so already. You can pick up the projects until Friday, January 20th. After that date, projects will properly disposed.

GIRLS BASKETBALL: This Friday, the JV/V girls basketball teams will be hosting Valparaiso. This night is also going to be a Coaches vs. Cancer night. We are asking everyone who plans on attending the game to wear "PINK". In addition, both our girls teams are trying to clinch an outright DAC Championship with victories over Valpo. Both JV/V records are 6-0 in the conference standings. JV start time is 5:30, with the Varsity to follow.

SCIENCE: Genetic Update Conference: Anyone interested in attending a Genetic Update Conference with special guest Sam Rhine on February 13 in the Auditorium, please see Miss Rapin in C132 ASAP. Permission Slips are due 1/30!

PARKING: Students parking in the red or green lots during the school day must wait until 2:30 to move their vehicles to the green lot.

Students who attend any athletic events are reminded that no outside food, drink or backpacks will be permitted through the gates. We expect all fans to support the teams and show positive sportsmanship. Do not target opposing players or fans and any offensive chants will not be tolerated. Your support for the athletic programs has been amazing this year!

Just a reminder to students that the Daily Announcements can also be found on the high school web site.
